Instructions:

1. Prepare the Dough:

- Mix the wheat starch and potato starch in a bowl.
- Add the boiling water immediately and mix with a spatula until it forms a lump.
- Knead the dough for about 2 minutes, then place it in a plastic bag to prevent drying. Let it rest for 10 minutes.

2. Divide the Dough:

- After resting, divide the dough into 15 pieces (about 10g each). Keep the pieces in the plastic bag when not in use.

3. Prepare the Filling:

- Chop half of the shrimp into small pieces and roughly mash the other half.
- In a bowl, combine the shrimp with salt, sugar, pepper, white wine, and chicken powder. Stir in one direction for 2 minutes.
- Add potato starch and stir again in the same direction for 1 minute. Finally, add cooking oil and sesame oil, stirring well for another minute. Cover and refrigerate for 30 minutes.

4. Assemble the Dumplings:

- Roll out each piece of dough into a thin, round wrapper.
- Place a spoonful of the shrimp filling in the center of the wrapper.
- Fold the sides inwards and roll the wrapper gently but tightly to secure the filling.

5. Steam the Dumplings:

- Lay baking paper on top of a steamer and place the dumplings on it.
- Steam in boiling water for about 5 minutes.

6. Serve:

- Enjoy your dumplings with a dipping sauce made from 1 tbsp soy sauce, 1 tbsp vinegar, and chili oil.

How do I prevent dumplings from sticking?

To prevent dumplings from sticking, here are some effective tips:

1. Use Cornstarch or Flour: Dust the dumplings lightly with cornstarch or flour before placing them in the steamer or on a plate. This creates a barrier that helps prevent sticking.
2. Use Parchment Paper: Place a sheet of parchment paper in the steamer basket. You can also cut small holes in the paper to allow steam to circulate while preventing the dumplings from touching the steamer directly.
3. Oil the Steamer: Lightly oil the steamer basket or the surface where the dumplings will sit. This will help create a non-stick surface.
4. Avoid Overcrowding: Make sure to space the dumplings apart in the steamer. Overcrowding can cause them to stick together as they expand while cooking.
5. Steam Immediately: If you're making dumplings ahead of time, try to steam them right after assembling. If you need to store them, place them on a floured surface and cover them with a damp cloth until you're ready to steam.
6. Cool Before Storing: If you need to store cooked dumplings, let them cool completely before placing them in a container. This helps prevent moisture from causing them to stick together.

By following these tips, you can enjoy perfectly cooked dumplings without the hassle of them sticking together! Happy cooking! 🥟✨
